Between assemblies he is ready and willing to perform any task which will help accomplish the mission of the unit.

"He performs duties in an outstanding manner; he is a 'self-

Hodgkins disease fatal to student

Charles Marx, a Winona State senior, died at his home in Wabasha last week. He had suffered from Hodgkins disease for four years, and had discontinued attending class four weeks ago because of ill health.

Born March 18, 1943, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marx, Wabasha, he graduated from St. Felix High School and attended the College of St. Thomas in St. Paul for one year before transferring to Winona State.

He had attended Winona State for four years, and would have received his bachelor of arts degree in business administration next month.

Mr. Marx is survived by his parents, five brothers, and two sisters.

Students perform two comic operas for Parents' Weekend

by Marilyn McGuire

Comic opera has long been a part of the music world. In fact, it started in the late 1600's as the intermezzo in a larger work. "La Serva Padronna," ("The Maid as Mistress," written in 1733 is just such a composition. It made a definite impact on the 18th century music and has charmed audiences for over 200 years. Last Saturday night was no exception.

In "The Maid as Mistress," Jane Hilde displayed her melodious voice as she played Seprina, the maid who hopes and schemes to become the wife of Uberto. Jim Dickson, as Uberto tries to escape; but in the end is caught. Seprina is aided in her attempts

Jazz Band will hold final concert Sunday

Winona State's Jazz Band will present their final program of the year this Sunday in Somsen Auditorium. Directed by Fred Heyer, Winona State Music instructor, the program will consist of ensembles, with the Bob Klein trombone quartet from Melrose-Mindoro High School also presenting a few numbers.

The program and those participating are as follows: "Marty," arranged by Dick Fenne; "Kanny's Blues," trumpet solo by Gary Urness, written by Ralph Mutchler; "Lazy Sunday," arranged by Dick Fenne; "Three for All," by Bob Seibert; "A Cake for Jake," trumpet solo played by Leonard Purrington, written by Bob Seibert; "Zet," composed and arranged by Warren Barker; "The Muddy Boggy River Blues," by Dale Stevens; "Ballad for Stormy," trumpet solo by Doug Wood composed and arranged by Dick Fenne;

"In Between Classes," written and arranged by Fred Heyer.

The Bob Klein Trombone Quartet from Melrose-Mindoro High School, numbers to be announced; The Dave Heyer Trio: Dave Heyer, piano; John Durfey, bass; Jay Epstein, drums; numbers to be announced; Jazz Ensemble: "Extra Innings," by Max Roberts; "Tuff Enuff," by Larry Muhoherac; "The Golden Horns," composed and arranged by Dick Fenne; "Quincy's Groove," composed and arranged by Dick Fenne.

Those participating are: Trumpets — Gary Urness, Mike Tantis, Leonard Purrington, Doug Wood, Terry Vatland; trombones — Dave Knight, Nick Mydra, Rick Anderson, Carol Jeche; saxophones — Fred Heyer, Avis Laven, Elaine Lea, Ken Maddux, Jon Arnold; bass violin — Kathy Moe; Drums — David Heyer.

by Vespone played by Paul Skatum.

THE ORCHESTRA for both shows was excellent. Mr. McCluer must have worked hours to achieve the perfect balance between the instruments and the singers.

The second show, "Gallantry" by Douglas Moore was a modern example of comic opera. Opening with a soap commercial sung by announcer Kathy Jahn, the mood was set for the following light satire. Arlyne Jacobson as Lola, the nurse, did a fine job both vocally and in avoiding the passes of her doctor.

Gary McDowell sang the part of Dr. Gregg with gusto and pleasure. Ron Johnson, playing the role of Donald, Lola's fiancée, also obviously fully enjoyed his part.

Sets for both shows were designed by Mr. Reidelberger. The "Gallantry" set accurately depicted the "make-shiftiness" of the average TV studio.

JOAN GRAHAM, Jeanne Morrison, and Joan Tushner, the Billy Boy Wax dancers, were clever. Their routine was carefully planned spoof on the typical commercial.

The operas showed the fine musical talents that Winona State has; but unfortunately the stage construction and acting suffered from a lack of preparation.

Should seniors take finals?

Spring quarter finals are looming up, and the bad news is even printed on the front page of the Winonan.

For many graduating seniors, however, spring quarter finals are often different. Many professors, if they know that it is a senior's last quarter, and if he has a "B" average in the course, and sometimes an overall "B" average, will exempt a last quarter senior from taking the final.

WHILE MANY may gasp at this, we support this policy. We do not recommend that all last quarter seniors start clamoring for no final, or that all instructors tell last quarter seniors that they need not take the final.

Chances are, if the instructor has given several tests, and required a paper, he will know exactly how well the student will do in the final. If, for example, a student through four years of college is conscientious, has received good grades on his tests, and the instructor has had the student before in other classes and he knows the student's capabilities, it is very unlikely that the student would not do as well on the final as he has normally done in the other required work of the course.

Although we support this policy, we recognize that much depends upon the individual student and the class. We also know it depends upon tests and other grades already given, as well as the instructors attitude toward this practice.

WE DO not, even for a minute suggest that all instructors allow last quarter graduates to miss the final, but if a student has proved himself conscientious, and if the professor feels that a student will get a "B" or better on the final why not reward him for hard, conscientious work?

Probation notices finally sent

Here it is, the ninth week of an eleven week quarter, and with one week of classes left, students are finally notified if they are on probation.

This, we are sure, is a great help. If a student has been wondering if he is on probation or not, by now he must figure that he isn't. So, our wonderful dean's office finally gets around to notify students when it doesn't do much good.

Sometimes we wonder, if the administration must want to play cat and mouse with the students. First they wait with the final schedule until only a few weeks before final week, when it could easily be posted with registration, and now they get around to notifying students of their academic standing.

College is here for the purpose of giving students an education. It has been established for the students. When will our administration realize this?

Senate closes for academic year

by Fredric Baranski

The last regular WSSA meeting of the academic year saw a general tying up of loose ends, although over half of the representatives were not in attendance.

Judy Rose, student union senator, proposed the establishment of a union board composed mainly of students, and Mr. Kane presented details of the new addition. To be included are a snack bar and a bakery.

IT WAS resolved that the WSSA recommend to the finance committee that activity fees be raised by $1.50 per quarter to provide a yearbook to every student.

The theme for homecoming this year will be Psychedelic '67, according to Gary McDowell. Only three suggestions had been turned in as of the final date of the theme contest. He also reported that this year the contest for Homecoming Queen would involve a run-off for the top seven contestants.

Jim Brodie has been elected Junior Class President, and the senators re-elected Mr. Henry for another term as WSSA adviser.

MIKE TROK presented a list of 78 candidates for the Who's Who election that is being conducted today.

Due to lack of time, the Teacher Evaluation scheduled for the end of the quarter will be postponed until next Fall.

The revised constitution of the Inter-Residence Hall council was

Students note courage

To the Editor:

Date: May 17, 1967. Three weeks ago Charles Marx, a major in business administration and due to graduate soon, withdrew from school. Today he is dead.

For the past four years he had been ill with Hodgkins disease. Despite this fact, "Charlie" had a college diploma all but earned — an accomplishment that most of us, under the same handicap, could never have attained.

NO ONE WILL ever know the thoughts that occupied Charlie's mind on the few days he found himself too tired to ride with the rest of the guys in the Wabasha car pool that commuted every day. We can only guess at the amount of determination that Charlie possessed to have carried a 17-credit load, to have earned fine grades, and to have kept an amiable, cheerful outlook towards the world. He cared. He sought a college education. Apathetic he was not.

To the end, Charles Marx never wanted anybody to realize how badly he was faring. We, the undersigned, wish you to take note of his valor.

The keen edge

by Frederic Baranski

One-nineteenth of a Rubber Stamp.

The following is the result of an interview in which the new student senators were asked the question "What is it like to be one-nineteenth of a rubber stamp?"

The newly elected President, Boss John, had this to say: "Basically the role of student government is wide open — if only someone would do something. I want to reflect what students want — my class in method acting should thus greatly facilitate my role as a mirror. I don't feel that as an individual I should take any definite stands or set any precedents."

SUSIE DRIBBLE, senator-at-large, commented: "I really did not know what I was getting into, but they told me my face would get me a position. The senate looks like it could be a real gas!"

The SS secretary, Alice Wonderwoman, stated: "I would like to get the upper hand, since I don't always agree with Boss John's decisions. Greek interests should come first."

Douglas Daffodil, social senator, feels "The SS should work for a more varied social calendar. I plan to see if any Hell's Angels would be available to stage a few happenings. That and more pot-smoking parties. The only things I really don't like are all the meetings."

THE NEW academic senator, Bruce Trite, commented, "First let's see which way the wind blows — better safe than sorry, yon know. After all, that's the way the ball bounces. And remember, a penny saved is a penny earned."

Fred Britannica, Clubs and Organizations senator, said: "Obviously, the pusillanimous mauling of the greater aggregate of the student body does little except castigate the heirarchical structure, but I should like to see a more erudite atmosphere prevailing at convocations. Essentially, the lewd, lascivious, lecherous, and libidinous libertine deserve more of a voice." Or something like that.

Brain and brawn help remove tree

To the Editor:

Congratulations to the Winona State student who removed the Balsam pine tree from the top of the construction elevator at the new high-rise dormitory.

In removing the tree this gentleman of obvious fine up-bringing honored our campus by dispensing with an unsightly sacrilege which has disgraced us ever since the time for burning Christmas trees passed.

TO ACCOMPLISH such a task this gentleman apparently had to undertake a perilous ascent of approximately 60 feet without the aid of a ladder, pitting both brain and brawn against the swaying steel structure. At a hideous height of 15 stories the experience could have been nothing short of unnerving.

LET ME ALSO observe something about the type of man who would ever think of setting out on such an endeavor. He first must be of finer stuff who recognizes those things which seem out of place. Secondly, he must be a gallant person to whom daring and heroic deeds are commonplace.

THE REASON for my assuming that the doer of such a deed is a student lies in the fact that the tree was present Thursday afternoon and absent Friday morning. This, coupled with the knowledge that no work is done there at night leads me to such a conclusion.

Again, to you sir, my congratulations for a job well done and greatly appreciated by at least one not quite so daring as you.

Golfers third at conference meet

The Warrior golfers finished third in the NIC golf tournament at Houghton, Mich., last Saturday in the midst of a protest over the championship.

Host Michigan Tech won the disputed event, totaling 478 points for 27 holes, followed by Bemidji at 485, Winona 489, and Minnesota-Morris 527.

PROTESTS were lodged against Michigan Tech for allegedly having a caddie, which is forbidden by NIC rules. Defending champion Bemidji filed the protest.

Jim Stout led Winona to its third place finish with a 119. Jim Huettl had 121, Roger Fischbach 123, and Dave Henke and Tim Rath 126 each.

Medalist honors went to Bob Were of Moorhead with a 115.

Warrior 9 falls, finishes third

The baseball season ended in disappointment for Coach Gary Grob's power-laden sluggers last weekend, dropping two of three games to Mankato State, and slipping to third place in the final NIC standings. The Warriors ended the season with an 18-10 record.

Mankato shattered Winona's tourney hopes last Friday with an 8-2 drubbing which, coupled with St. Cloud's rout of Moorhead, stifled all hopes of meeting St. Thomas in the District 13 NAIA playoff.

Mankato pitcher Gary Cargill kept the Warrior batters under control, while teammate Jim Terrell led a 12 hit attack on the Winona mound. Chip Schwartz was tagged for the loss, giving up seven earned runs and 11 hits in the seven innings he pitched. Rick Smith threw the final inning, allowing only one hit.

Rich Decker scored a run on an error and two singles in the eighth, and pinch hitter Mike De Wyre popped off a home run in the ninth for the Warrior's only two runs.

Saturday's doubleheader saw Winona win a cliffhanger 5-4 in the first game to retain hopes of a title share, but the second game fell to Mankato 8-1 to drop the Warriors to third place.

Winona got the lead in the first inning when Rich Decker singled, stole second and scored on Pat Boland's single, but Mankato came back to go ahead 3-1 after two innings.

Boland connected again in the fourth, smashing a three-run home run to put the Warriors back in front 4-3. A Mankato home run knotted the score again, but in the fourth Chuck Goerish scored on an error, a single, a fielder's choice, and a wild pitch.

The second game was all Mankato though, as they jumped off to a 5-0 lead in the first three inn-

Thinclads fifth at NIC

Winona tracksters put their all into the NIC track meet last weekend, but had to settle for a lone first, and a disappointing fifth in the six-team event.

St. Cloud won the meet easily, ending Mankato's 18-year domination of NIC track. The final team totals were: St. Cloud 102½, Mankato 81, Moorhead 32, host Michigan Tech 29, Winona 14½, Bemidji 11.

COACH BOB KEISTER remarked, "We did just about what I thought we would." Winter-like cold dominated the event, slowing the pace considerably as only one record was tied and none broken. St. Cloud's Walter Rhodes tied the 220-yard dash record en route to becoming the outstanding individual performer of the event.

Winona's lone first came from Don Zimmerhagl, who tossed the javelin 178' 3". Tom Ochs got a couple of bad breaks, finishing third in both the 440 and 880. John Rahman ran the best three-mile of his career, 14:46, for a school record, but it was only good for third behind St. Cloud's Nelson-Dirkes combination.

Warrior relay teams finished fourth in the 440-yard relay, and fifth in the mile relay. Most of the events were run in intermittent snowfall.

Netters tie for fifth at NIC meet

Newcomer Winona State scored only one point in last weekend's NIC tennis tournament, finishing fifth in the seven-team event.

Winona's only point was scored by Craig Thornton at first singles, who advanced to the semi-finals before losing to St. Cloud's Tim Sundby.

ST. CLOUD repeated as NIC champs with 23 points, with Mankato at 17, Michigan Tech 15, Morris 6, Winona and Moorhead 1 each, and Bemidji did not score.
